Dear Colleagues!

The successful transplantation of animal organs would revolutionize medicine in general. Recent studies on pig hearts and kidneys have rekindled enthusiasm for this vision. Therefore, this year's Transplant Forum Symposium is dedicated entirely to the topic of Xenotransplantation. Distinguished international leaders in the field will present their latest research and discuss the future of medicine and how Xenotransplantation can contribute to it.

We cordially invite you to participate in this event at MedUni Vienna and look forward to seeing you on the 26th of September!
